(a) Assets with retention of title clause are reported on a separate line with the mention "of which... € with retention of title clause".

If it is not possible to identify the assets, a reference to the foot of the balance sheet shows the amount still to be paid on these assets.

The amount to be paid includes the amount of unmatured bills.

(b) If securities are valued using the equity method, this item is subdivided into two sub-items "Investments valued using the equity method" and "Other equity interests".

For equity-valued securities, the "Gross" column shows the total equity value if it is higher than the acquisition cost. Otherwise, the acquisition price is used.

The overall provision for impairment of the portfolio is shown in the second column.

The "Net" column shows the overall positive equity value or a zero value.

(c) To be split, if necessary, between goods and services.

(d) Receivables from sales or services.

(e) Item to be used directly if the entity does not buy back its own shares.
